

Faculty: An opportunity to work closely with Presidential Scholars

Faculty Colleague Program

What is a Faculty Colleague?

1) a professor in the student's major department who can offer information, advice & insight that will assist & improve Presidential Scholars' experiences at Illinois State University.

2) a mentor who encourages and may facilitate appropriate experiences, both inside and outside the classroom, in conjunction with the department advisor & the Honors Program.

3) a collaborator who provides a perspective on the academic discipline and career options, which might include information on research opportunities, internships, networking and professional development opportunities in which to engage.

(Students initiate meetings only 1 or 2 times a year.)
